Turks and Caicos Islands Number Portability Consultation

The Telecommunications Commission (the “Commission”) previously initiated a consultation process to review the Number Portability in the Turks and Caicos Islands (“TCI”).

The Commission received two responses to the consultation from Digicel and Flow. In the interests of transparency and constructive debate, the Commission is now publishing those responses for comment. We are grateful to Digicel and Flow for their publication agreement.

Respondents who wish to submit comments on the responses received (Reply Responses) are invited to do so in written form. Responses should, ideally, be submitted to the Commission in the electronic form to facilitate further distribution and posting on the Commission’s website. <http://www.telecommission.tc/sitemap.html>.

The filing deadlines for Reply Responses is August 26, 2022.
